

THE POINT of Deflection

A thought-provoking book that pushes the reader to think beyond what is visible to the eye. This is yet another living proof that our beginnings don't always have to dictate our destinies. Definitely a book worth your time.

Lubnah Abdulhalim (Author of 'Unbroken Wings' and 'Dropped To The World, Adopted By Fate')

I find The Point Of Deflection, an intriguing piece of work, A well-written book, which accommodates what you feel, think and the reason behind the formation of intellectual ability and behavior. It tells you how to live your life to the fullest with powerful anecdotes of profound individuals who made it in life despite a humble beginning. A very encouraging piece, I wouldn't mind re-reading it.

Prof.Dr.Gopala (University Lecturer, and proprietor of Asian Institute of Management Science and BNG holdings.)

The Point of Deflection is a book that gives you insight in understanding why people change in let alone behavior but also in their perception. For instance, if you pose a question to a child regarding their future ambitions, they would be quick to respond with professions they have always looked up to such as a doctor, pilot or whatever gives impetus and drives their passion. It will come as no surprise ten to fifteen years down the line that response to the same question could differ significantly.

The question ringing in our heads is, what changed? What makes us different? Is it the influence on us by our society, family, friends and colleagues? Would this be circumstantial or is it as a result of mounting peer pressure that transform us into better or worse individuals? Life is all about choices we consciously make that manifest into either marked successes and/or imminent failure.

DR. M. BAHADAR,

A prolific writer who sees the need to not only motivate but also to provide pragmatic solutions to existing life challenges. His curiosity saw the emergence of a contemporary writer, with a distinctive writing style that makes the reader relate to real situation he narrates. He has conducted extensive research on the philosophy of life and its psychological effect impacting on the human race. This brought about coverage of over 2,000 books, and dealing with almost 10,000 personal and family issues, which birthed the notion of inscribing 3 of the most exclusive books, 'The Hidden Self,' 'The Point of Deflection,' and 'A household of Bliss.' Visit your retail stores and/or online market to get your self a copy of this award winning book which will completely transform your life.

Xlibris

DR MOHAMED BAHADAR

the
POINT
of DEFLECTION

Dr. MOHAMED BAHADAR

ASPIRE - ENDURE - TRIUMPH

THE POINT of Deflection

DR MOHAMED BAHADAR

THE POINT of Deflection

The Point of Deflection is a book that gives you insight in understanding why people change in let alone behavior but also in their perception. For instance, if you pose a question to a child regarding their future ambitions, they would be quick to respond with professions they have always looked up to such as a doctor, pilot or whatever gives impetus and drives their passion. It will come as no surprise ten to fifteen years down the line that response to the same question could differ significantly.

DR MOHAMED BAHAI DAR

